GETTING TO KNOW YOU!

Welcome to Dr. Ernest Krug, our guest minister for the week! In addition to serving at six churches throughout the country as a UPCUSA minister, Dr. Krug has had a full medical career doing neurodevelopmental assessments of children in multidisciplinary team settings, civilian and military. He also has retired from the US army with the rank of colonel. His sister and brother-in-law are the Assembly's own Pam and Greg Maloof. We are happy to welcome Dr. Krug and his wife Sarah this week!

This week we welcome the Haraf Family! Emily, Frank, Tripp (14), Miller (12), Bogan (10) and Cece the dog are happy to be back at the Assembly as renters this summer. Emily grew up hearing about the Assembly as a child in Nashville but she and her husband first rented a cottage in the summer of 2016. They were immediately enthralled by the Assembly lifestyle. Emily says "It's simple. Simple is something we rarely give ourselves. Everything is complicated at home but not here. Kids enjoy simple games. Adults enjoy a simple walk. It's a slow down that our family of 5 desperately needed. It's a way for us to reconnect as a family and reconnect with the outside, a way to reconnect with God." Be sure to give a big hello to the Harafs when you see them!

Keep your eyes open for Sam "the coffee man" O'Neal this summer at the Assembly! He is the founder and owner of Holy Grail Coffee Company, based in Winchester, TN. Sam opened the business back in February 2020 right before the pandemic hit, but has still managed to offer locally roasted and directly sourced coffee throughout the past year. His personal favorite drink is a latte, hot or iced. Holy Grail Coffee will be at the mall on Tuesdays from 9-10 a.m. as well as Thursdays from 7-10:30 a.m., see you there!

CHAPEL HAPPENINGS

Chancellor's Column

Welcome to the 2nd week of the 139th Assembly of the Monteagle Sunday School Assembly. Having had a challenging season last year due to Covid, I am sure we are all looking forward to an enjoyable season.

As we prepare to settle back into Assembly life—visiting friends, making new acquaintances, and attending all the wonderful program—let's not forget to include our Sunday worship services and a new format for Twilight Prayers.

This year, our worship services will be held at Warren Chapel. You may wear a mask if you wish, and seating, as usual, includes outdoor seating if the weather permits. As always, please silence your cell phones during the services.

As a final reminder, only those with mobility issues should drive golf carts to the Chapel on the gravel path. Please do not move the cart until after the service as they can create a disturbing sound—backing up or driving on gravel.

I wish you all a safe and joyful season at Monteagle Sunday School Assembly. I look forward to seeing you!

-Greg Maloof, Chancellor of the Chapel

FROM THE ARCHIVES

MR. RICHMOND REMEMBERS (PART 1)

This is Part 1 of an article written by Nell Savage Mahoney titled, "Mr. Richmond Remembers", about William Hunter Richmond, Sr. recalling his days as a workman in the assembly. Better than most people who have long known about Monteagle, and because he had such an active part in the building of the place dear to the hearts of so many over more than a half a century, Mr. Richmond remembers the Sunday School Assembly from its inception.

"I came to Monteagle June 15, 1883, to work for my brother James. Jim and I went right to work the following Monday morning on three houses for the Assembly. They had all the materials ready. One cottage was near the North Gate, the other two on the road down the hill to the right of the Amphitheater, across from old man Metcalf's flower garden which he was just starting. The old Amphitheater was where the auditorium is now. This was the first public building on the Assembly grounds. It was an old rustic building with open sides and trees with the bark left on the trunks were set up to support the roof. It was almost round in shape, and had a platform and just common, homemade benches with backs made of slats. Old colonel Webster designed and built this building the first year of the Assembly. He came from somewhere in New York--- Rochester, I believe it was. The Trustees brought him here to lay out the grounds. He was also the general manager, I reckon until the year after I got to the mountain. He must have left Monteagle about 1884."

While Colonel Webster was at work on the grounds the trustees ordered several carloads of shrubbery and evergreens from Rochester, NY and he had these set out the first year. He was a careful man and planned everything to make the money go as far as it could.

"People, hundreds and hundreds of them, first came to Monteagle in June, July and August of 1883. Everybody lived in tents and ate in a big one until the Assembly built an old restaurant where the Assembly Inn now stands. This was a great big, old, flat topped dining room, with a lean-to for a kitchen. My big, chief job was putting up tents for the crowd of people who came to Monteagle. No building could be done during the season on the Assembly grounds as hammering disturbed these summer visitors. During this time I joined up with the Assembly. Colonel Webster would tell us what kind of a tent was to be used and where to put it; and then we put down a floor, drove our stakes, and stretched it up on poles. This would take from an hour to two hours because during the winter we had made the floors according to size and stacked them up in a convenient place until needed. The regular tent town was from the Assembly fence parallel to the railroad tracks in the village to the north fence and the gate leading out of the grounds towards Table Rock. Everybody slept on canvas cots. The Assembly furnished these and pillows, but no mattresses. At that time the people understood the situation, and brought with them three or four great big packing trunks. And they always had them full of bedding. There was very little housekeeping the first few years on the Assembly grounds. The old restaurant was operated the first year or so by the management. Then D. D. Wilkins, of Duck Hill, Miss., ran it until it was pulled down at the close of the season in 1894."

- Morgan Merrill, Archives Committee Chair

GOT A BIRTHDAY OR ANNIVERSARY

COMING UP?

On Thursdays we will recognize birthdays and anniversaries each week at the Twilight Prayer Service. We will also use this as an opportunity to show our thanks for the visiting minister.

WHAT ABOUT A CHILD'S BIRTHDAY?

Be sure to send your children to ring the bell before the Twilight Service on their birthday! It is a hefty bell, so if we have several birthdays, multiple young people can all pull the rope together! Please stay afterwards to receive a special birthday prayer at the Twilight Service. You may report to the bell tower at 7:15 p.m. Monday–Thursday.

WEEK 2 LECTURE DESCRIPTIONS

WAYNE & VIRGINIA JERVIS BIBLE WEEK

Bible Lecture Series: Rediscovering the Gospel of Luke Dr. Jeremy F. Hultin

In many ways, Luke offers us a unique perspective on Jesus and the movement he inaugurated. Writing with an awareness that accounts of Jesus were proliferating, Luke sets out to tell an “orderly” account, drawing on his knowledge of both Greco-Roman literary conventions and a deep knowledge of the Hebrew Bible. Already in the opening chapters, Luke sounds his themes of social transformation and the promise of “consolation for Israel.” For Luke, Jesus is, above all, a “mighty prophet” in the mold of Elijah, announcing the “favorable year of the Lord.” But Luke also writes with frank acknowledgement that, in the wake of Jesus’ execution, many felt that their hopes that Jesus “would redeem Israel” had been disappointed (Luke 24:21). Dr. Hultin is associate professor of Biblical languages at Union Theological Seminary in New York, and his lectures will explore some of Luke’s major themes, such as his unique treatment of wealth and social justice; the depiction of Jesus as a prophet; the relationship of Jesus and his followers to “Israel” as the one true people of God; and Luke’s attempt to wrest meaning from apparent tragedy of Jesus’ death.

Before that he worked at the National Museum of American History, Smithsonian Institution for twenty years and served for nine of those years as the director. The National Underground Railroad Freedom Center has gained recognition for the quality of its presentations and focus on race, interracial cooperation, and issues of contemporary slavery. His lecture at MSSA will focus primarily on the Underground Railroad, particularly in Tennessee.

The Monteagle Sunday School Assembly was organized by Charter issued by the State of Tennessee on October 4, 1882 for the purpose of: "... the advancement of science, literary attainment, Sunday School interests, and the promotion of the broadest popular culture in the interest of Christianity without regard to sect or denomination."

The Mission of the Monteagle Sunday School Assembly is to be a welcoming community of Christian faith where people gather to engage in spiritual growth and renewal, lifelong inquiry and learning, recreational and cultural enrichment, while being good stewards of our natural resources and our Assembly heritage.
